Story one in the new small-town romance series.

When young bookstore owner Rob starts a new reading group, The Monday Mystery Society attracts 10 diverse individuals, all attractive in their unique ways - and all of them single. How many of them will still be single by the group's closing party?

Rob has found the woman of his dreams, but Marissa stiffens up at the hint that he might ask her out. Thinking fast, the young bookstore owner invents a mystery reading group, just for the chance to spend some time with the gorgeous nurse. The big mystery on his mind is how far he'll have to go to get her attention: Does he need to show up wounded in her ER?

Welcome to Oakville, where people still know their neighbors, friendships last a lifetime - and gossip is a force of nature.
