Gorgeous aspiring actress Amber Treloar auditions for one of two hostess roles on a new television family game show. She catches the eye of maverick director Garrett Ellison and is called back for an interview, during which he manipulates her into revealing her submissive nature. Devious, controlling and powerfully persuasive, Garrett coerces Amber into performing a decadent screen test with her prospective co-hostess, Karina. A scene is played out between the two buxom blondes in a wrestling ring filled with jelly. The two start off playfully wrestling and end in a frenzy of lust and passion that satisfies everyone on the set.

A master of mind games, Garrett preys on her turmoil over her career concerns, and her dark desire for sexual subjugation. Immensely wealthy and influential, media baron Roland Hadley has devised a corrupt scheme to create television celebrities, and then feature them in depraved vignettes for the amusement of his business associates.

Compelled to explore a side of herself she cannot ignore, Amber accepts their offer of a public life of luxury and celebrity, and a private life of sexual exploitation. But, having signed her name on a lucrative contract, how far will she be required to go? In a series of bizarre scenes she is taken into realms beyond her imagination, and is shocked by her appetite for various forms of sexual humiliation. She struggles to reconcile her conflicting emotions as her feelings for Garrett Ellison veer between desire and resentment, fear and excitement. Enmeshed in a situation over which she has no control, even as her celebrity grows, Amber realizes she may have made a dangerous mistake in allowing herself to be used by the director and the tycoon.

Adults only - this book contains graphic scenes of Female sexual submission.
