Elle had gone too far this time. She'd let her body get the best of her, and now she was paying the price. It was time to take back control.

But a simple trip to the mall leads to a startling discovery. Through a gap in the dressing room stall, she spies a stunning blonde with a sizeable package of her own. It wouldn't hurt to watch, would it? The girl on the other side is anything but shy, and after the show, Elle's forced to flee with a sticky pair of pants for which she hasn't paid.

Now her husband's home and looking for answers. Could it get any worse?

Breathing Room is audiobook number nine in the Becoming Futa serial. It contains futa solo play, voyeur, male-on-futa, and unintentional petty theft.
