Confessions in the Dark - new adult paranormal romance - book three.

Seventeen and up due to language and adult situations.

After narrowly escaping from Vasily's compound, Ophelia is on the run and fighting for her life. Her first goal is to get some help; too bad she's stuck on an island owned by Vasily. Her second and third goals consist of going back and freeing her people, and killing Vasily - not necessarily in that order.

When Celtic warrior and vamp badass Irish senses something is amiss, he goes in search of the woman who has been on his mind since their first meeting. While his old friends adjust to their new lives, Irish heads off to the dangerous North Sentinel Island, in search of his woman. What he finds there will change everything in the battle against Vasily and his men.

In the Dark books in correct order:

- Running in the Dark*: Bessina and Trace
- Sinners in the Dark*: Via and Echo
- Confessions in the Dark*: Irish and Ophelia
- Absolution in the Dark*: Jax and Avery
