Charlotte Edwards and Marcus Darkley were married to other people but the successful erotica authors met up twice a year to rekindle their established sexual relationship and seek new pleasures together. This time, twin sisters caught their imagination in the hotel and they used their considerable powers of persuasion to get first one and then the other into their hotel room. What followed was a night of the hottest sex and debauchery as Marcus and Charlotte got their rocks off in Becky and Rosie. The girls had no idea what they were in for!
