My Cockpit. My Rules. Dex Jameson is an arrogant ass. It's my first day on the job as a stewardess working on a billionaire's private jet, and the cocky pilot is already trying to hit my landing strip. I've always had a thing for pilots, but this arrogant jerk is going to cure me of that. I can handle the looks. I can handle the comments. I can even handle the sexual invitation that he threw down between us. But when my boss makes us pretend that we're husband and wife during a business trip, my willpower starts to crumble away. I'm trying hard to stay professional. I'm trying my best to keep his tattooed biceps at arm's length. But this hot alpha pilot knows how to push all the right buttons and has all the right moves. Buckle up. It's going to be a bumpy ride. Contains mature themes.
