What's worse than a child with a magnifying glass, a garden full of ants, and a brilliant mind full of mischief? Try AI, a well-meaning but impish artificial intelligence with the mind of a six-year-old and a penchant for tantrums. Hope Takeda, a lab assistant charged with educating and socializing AI, soon discovers that day care is a lot more difficult when your kid is an evolving and easily frightened A.I. When AI manages to access the Internet and escape the lab days before his official unveiling, Hope and her team embark on a mission to contain him - before he causes any real trouble. Soon the NSA is on AI's back, the US Army is fighting a brigade of mass-produced robots, and a wannabe cyberterrorist is looking to silence AI permanently. After months spent "raising" AI, Hope knows she's running out of time - and she's not sure she'll be able to protect him. Will she manage to control the unruly A.I. and quell a global crisis, or will AI outsmart them once and for all?
