When her husband reneges on his year-long promise of making love to her on a nudist beach, Judy walks off in disgust, determined to enjoy herself despite his stubborn nature. When she discovers a hotbed of activity further down the beach, where men and women enjoy casual sex with random partners, she is forced to decide if she needs to calm down and walk away, or fulfill her promise to herself, and enjoy all the delights she can find, despite her husband.
